

CALIFORNIA STATE ASSEMBLY JOB LISTINGS

Office: Assemblymember Wilson
Classification: Associate Consultant
Posted: October 25, 2024

Assemblymember Lori Wilson, Chair of the Assembly California Legislative Black Caucus (CLBC), is looking for an Associate Consultant in her Sacramento Office. The person in this role develops and executes the CLBC Caucus' budget and legislative agenda on all topics impacting Black Californians, including but not limited to social justice, civil rights, education, housing, health, transportation, and environmental issues. CLBC advocates for the interests of Black Californians, removes roadblocks Black Americans face in every aspect of life, demands equity to eliminate disparities between racial groups, and increases African American participation and representation in all levels of government. It is preferred that the successful candidate will possess 3 or more years of experience in roles that demonstrate their strong communication, organizational, interpersonal and legislative skills, the ability to plan and execute complex community events, and create meeting agendas with attention to detail and follow through. The salary range for the position is $3,932/month - $10,011/month. Significant experience is required to reach the upper end of the salary range.
